OUR FIRM NAME

Many of our customers and friends become confused on our firm name. My brother and I were once known as Martin Brothers. Since the war, however, we established ourselves separately and my nurseries are known as the GEORGE MARTIN NURSERIES, Perry, Ohio, (formerly of Painesville) The name plate on the front of this booklet shows it clearly with the address. Kindly address all mail, express and freight to us at that address.

LOCATION

To find our nurseries — go east from Painesville or west from Ashtabula on State Route 84. Our nursery is on the south side of the road about 4 miles east of Painesville and 6 miles west of Madison in Perry township. A large sign with our name on it will help you find it.

SHIPPING FACILITIES

Northern Ohio is so centrally located that freight and express shipments to all parts of the country is prompt and convenient. We ship all stock from Perry, Ohio, and our mail is sent from that Post Office.

IMPORTANT

Please indicate on your order whether to ship by express or freight, giving best route for quick delivery. Write us on your business stationery to show that you are in the trade, and hence entitled to wholesale prices. It helps us to have your orders early. All stock is listed subject to prior sale.

OUR RESPONSIBILITY

While we exercise the greatest care to have our nursery products all genuine and reliable, and hold ourselves prepared to replace, on proper proof all that prove untrue, we do not give any warranty, expressed or implied, or guarantee them to live and grow or give specific results. In case of any error on our part, it is understood that we shall at no time be held responsible for a greater amount than the original price of the goods.

ADJUSTMENT OF COMPLAINTS

Complaints for adjustment must be mailed upon arrival of stock, direct to our office in writing.

TRANSPORTATION

When we deliver stock to a transportation company our responsibility for its safety ceases. Your claims for damages should be made promptly to the agent of the transportation company at the point of delivery before you sign the receipt if possible.

INQUIRIES

It is part of our service to you to answer your inquiries promptly. We solicit your correspondence. It will help us, however, if you will make your inquiry as brief and clear as possible.

PRICES

The prices in this catalog are net, subject to change without notice, and f. o. b. Perry, Ohio Packing is charged at cost. This price list cancels all sales conditions and prices quoted in previous lists.

TERMS

Cash or satisfactory trade references must accompany all orders from purchasers unknown to us. To customer whose responsibility is known to us all bills are due net 30 days from date of invoice. On 60 day accounts and older 6% interest will be charged. 2 per cent discount if paid within 10 days from date of invoice.

Your Business and Mine

BEAUTIFUL homes, colorful gardens, attractive roadsides, fragrant flowers — these seem to have touched so many American hearts — captivated them, in fact, that it is comparatively easy to sell plants and shrubs and trees. Landscape effects sell themselves. Every eye is drawn to the home that is different. Every heart is touched by a colorful planting and every flower-lover's desire urges him to plan and plant. Flowers become an interesting hobby and a delightful pastime.

OUR JOB

It is up to us as growers and you as dealers to recognize the tendency and meet the requirements. People welcome suggestions — they appreciate help in planning the arrangement of their lawns and gardens and are generally willing to pay the price of quality plants and shrubs. There is a great deal of satisfaction in selling quality plants of good varieties because the customer is more pleased with the result.

For our part, we have made it a point for years to sell only the best. We constantly experiment with new varieties and have discarded many more than we grow. To produce plants in quantity at a reasonable price we cannot afford to depend on weaklings.

It seems that our growing policy has met with favor for our business has grown rapidly and we are often complimented on our prompt shipments and careful packing. We appreciate all the business that has come to us and want to merit YOUR confidence.

PLANT PEONIES THIS FALL

PEONIES probably give as much summer beauty as any flower grown and the size of their blooms make a gorgeous array in late May and early June. They require a minimum of care and the older colors arranged with some of the newer varieties produces a wide range of interesting shades. Look for our list of varieties further back. Fall is the time to plant Peonies and orders received in spring will be filled the following fall.

Fischerii. A dwarf dark blue variety which blooms from Sept. to Nov. This is the hardiest and most useful of all Aconites. 1 to 2 ft.	1.50	10.00	80.00
ACTAEA (Baneberry)
Alba. 2½ feet. A fine shade-loving plant, having long spikes of clear white flowers. Effective as a border and in shady woodland plantings.	1.75	12.50
Rubra. Red form of the above.	3.00	20.00
AETHIONEMA (Persian Candytuft)
These hardy little rock plants are of the most fascinating character. The foliage is a beautiful, glaucous blue; stems woody, and when covered with their heads of pink blossoms, make a picture not to be forgotten. We supply pot plants only, as field plants are hard to establish. They are almost shrubby in habit, and are improved by a slight cutting back after blooming. Stony, sandy loam is suitable for them and a warm, sunny position.
Persicum. Strong, twiggy bushes, covered with long, slender spikes of rosy pink flowers. One of our best rock plants. 9 in. June-July.	3.25	22.50
Grandiflorum. Somewhat lighter in color than Persicum. 6 in. June-July.	3.25	22.50

Long Spurred Hybrids. Mixed shades of beautiful colors	1.25	8.00	60.00
Skinnerii. Red and yellow	1.50	10.00	90.00
Mrs. Scott Elliott Strain. A mixture of very dainty flowers in varied color combinations	1.50	10.00	80.00
ARABIS (Rock Cress) A pretty white flowering plant, extensively used for rock gardens.
Alpina. Pure white flowers, in dense masses	1.50	10.00	80.00
Alpina Flore Pleno. Double white flowers	3.00	20.00

The leading Forcing Perennials are discussed on Pages 8 and 9

ARENARIA (Sandwort)

	doz.	100	1000
Montana. Close tufts, profusely covered with small silvery white flowers quite early in the season. Excellent as an edging plant in formal gardens and for rockeries in sunny places. Flowers resemble small, white, upturned morning glories. May	2.00	15.00
Grandiflora. From the Pyrenees Mountains. Covers itself with pure, snow-white star-like flowers. One of the best of all rock plants. May.	2.00	15.00

Aquilegia, Mrs. Scott Elliott Strain

AQUILEGIAS

HAVE you considered Aquilegias for fillers in May and June? We believe you will do well to study their use with a view to planting at least a hundred or two.

The Mrs. Scott Elliott strain supplies a wonderful array of color for small bouquets and is well adapted to use as a filler in sprays, baskets, and large vases.

The Long Spurred Hybrids, too, present some wonderful colors that suggest ready use for themselves.

ARMERIA (Sea Pink)

Pretty evergreen tufts of bright green, foliage like fine grass, flowers appear just above the heads, from 8 to 12 in. Blooming all summer.

Maritima. Flowers pale pink. Grass-like foliage. May and June.	1.75	12.00
Maritima Alba. Double white flowers. Foliage same as above	1.75	12.00
Laucheana. Bright rosy red, 6 to 8 in.	2.00	15.00

ARTEMESIA (Sage Brush)

Lactiflora. 3 to 4 ft. tall, dark green finely cut foliage, covered with many branched panicles of fragrant creamy white flowers. One of the finest perennial plants of recent introduction. Excellent for Florist's use.	1.50	10.00	80.00
Silver King (Ghost plant) Pretty silvery foliage, making a splendid plant about 2 ft. high. Fine for cutting and landscape	2.00	10.00	80.00

Landscape Perennials are discussed on Pages 24 and 25

	doz.	100	1000

The beautiful Regal Lily is good for forcing, or garden

Campanula

CAMPANULA

NEW uses for these old-time favorites are being found from time to time. Every lover of flowers knows the family and appreciates the many florist adaptations of the different varieties.

Then too, they work into landscape effects beautifully and are right at home in the perennial garden. They are biennials — growing the first year without blooms; blooming the second and then they die.

CAMPANULA (Canterbury Bells)	doz.	100	1000
These are beautiful Biennial Plants which bloom in early summer. This is a wonderful type of plant for Florist's forcing.

Forcing Perennials for Florists

AMONG the plants of this list chosen for winter floral work and greenhouse forcing are many new varieties that have been tested out for two years in a small way. They will force as proven by these experiments and they represent a mint of money to florists who get in on the ground floor and use them before they become common. For fuller descriptions see regular list.

Space does not permit us to explain in detail just how each variety is forced, but will be glad to answer any questions which you may have to ask personally.

During the winter months we try to have these plants in storage, but frequently they are exhausted. So, to be sure to get what you want when you want it, place your order now so we can reserve them for you.

Hardy Carnations

HARDY CARNATIONS

ALTHOUGH not quite as large as the tender carnation, they fill a need among hardy flowers that cannot be supplanted. When summer cuts are scarce these gems of the garden smile a greeting that engenders a smile of satisfaction on the face of your customer.

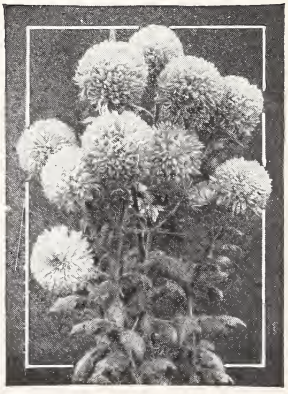
Be sure to mulch them in winter with leaves or coarse manure as they are not absolutely hardy in heavy soil particularly.

CARNATIONS (Hardy)	doz.	100	1000
These beautiful flowers take the place of the tender greenhouse variety for summer quite well, although they are not as large. They are not strictly hardy in all locations and especially in heavy soil, they need a mulch of leaves or coarse manure to winter well.
Red	1.50	10.00	80.00
Pink	1.50	10.00	80.00
White	1.50	10.00	80.00

CHRYSANTHEMUMS

IF October and November are dull months, at least there is a bright spot wherever Chrysanthemums bloom. Their presence in the lawn or garden brightens its drab appearance.

Landscaping, home bouquets, and florists' fall cut flowers -- these are their uses and they fill a vacancy before tender greenhouse cuts are fully grown and after the chill autumn winds have cut down all other flowers.



CHRYSANTHEMUM MAXIMUM (See Shasta Daisy)

Delphiniums

DELPHINIUMS

THE long graceful spikes of delicate light blue flowers of Belladonna and the deep rich blue of Bellamosa are highly prized in February when variety is needed from the general run of greenhouse cuts. They supply a wonderful demand and bring a good price.

How Many Do You Need?

CHRYSANTHEMUMS (Hardy)	doz.	100	1000
The following are the old fashioned hardy Garden varieties, which bloom in Oct. and Nov. giving a beautiful display of colors, when all other flowers are gone. They should be included in every planting.
Pink Old Homestead	1.50	10.00	80.00
Yellow Golden Queen	1.50	10.00	80.00
Red Indian	1.50	10.00	80.00
White Victory	1.50	10.00	80.00

CIMICIFUGA (Snakeroot)

Racemosa This plant will grow better in the shade than in the sunlight. Flowers are pretty white spikes, 3 to 5 ft. tall with large shiny maple-like leaves. Is a wonderful back ground plant	1.50	10.00	80.00

CONVALLARIA (Lily-of-the-Valley)

Clumps (in Fall only). Ours are grown from the finest type of imported German stock and far superior to the common native sort.	4.00	30.00

COREOPSIS (Tick Weed)

Grandiflora A pretty bright yellow flowered variety, fine for cut flowers.	1.25	6.00	50.00

Don't forget Chrysanthemums — you'll need them next fall badly

DELPHINIUM (Larkspur)

	doz.	100	1000
Everyone should be growing these plants in some form or another. They are very popular, easy to grow and can be had in most any color. The following varieties are the most popular in America.
Belladonna This variety is a wonderful cut flower with pretty sky blue flowers, for forcing it cannot be excelled, for design work it is the best, and every Florist should have some.
Two year	1.50	10.00	80.00
One year	1.00	6.00	50.00
	doz.	100	1000

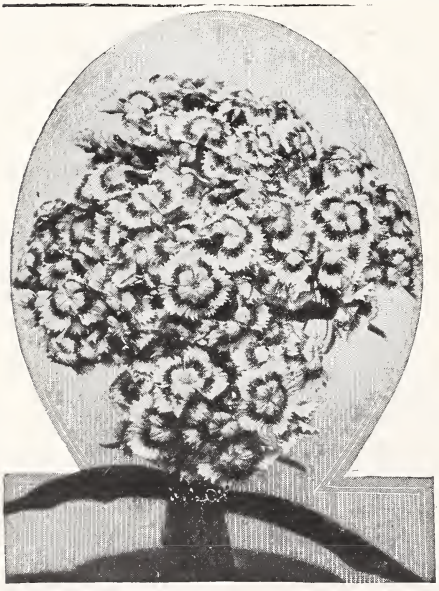
DESMODIUM (Tick Trefoil)

Penduliflorum. A pretty graceful shrub-like plant, with purpleish-red flowers, Aug. and Sept.	3.50	28.00



SWEET WILLIAM

APPRECIATED as a garden flower and a summer cut flower, the Sweet William has smiled on all generations since great-grandmother's time. Just recently it has been found that they force beautifully in about four weeks and fill a 4 inch pot nicely. They will grow again in the garden after smiling a greeting as a winter pot plant.

DIANTHUS BARBATUS (Sweet William

	doz.	100	1000

Summer Cut Flower Perennials

You Can Make Any Floral Piece Known to the Trade As Well From Perennials as From Greenhouse Cuts

WE know that statement is true without a doubt because many of the most beautiful pieces of floral work we have ever seen were made from these hardy outdoor flowers. And what a wealth of material hardy flowers supply.

It is really up to you to find out which varieties you can get the best results with, because your sense of fitness might indicate one way of adapting a certain flower to floral pieces while another would find that way entirely out of line with his way of doing things. But of this we are sure — you and your help can produce beautiful floral work with perennials that will lend greater variety to it.

The characteristics of each family and variety of flowers determines to a large degree, its adaptability to floral work. Some produce well under forcing conditions; some last better than others when made up; some peculiar colors make striking pieces and combine well with other flowers, while still others fall flat in any treatment. However, the people at your makeup tables are the personal element in the artistic arrangement of whatever flowers you use. They are the ones who give your floral pieces a personality. It is they who use the flowers at hand, and by their skill, make them look different than other pieces in which the same flowers are used. You, of course, are familiar with most perennials. The brief descriptions in this catalog indicate the flowers commonly used for forcing as well as those for garden or rock garden purposes.

Your orders will have our prompt and careful attention.

You are the loser if you fail to plant Shasta Daisies

JAPANESE IRIS

FOR baskets and vases no flower growing has a more pleasing personality than the Jap Iris. Its quiet beauty — its waxy delicacy — is rich beyond description. There is nothing gaudy about it. It makes up with such good taste in simple arrangements that people are wild about it.

We do not recommend Jap Iris for the general run of sprays, wreaths and other made up floral pieces where the flowers are likely to receive rough handling. But for vases and baskets they are fine.

You can charge prices for Jap Iris all out of proportion to what they cost you because their appearance is 'class' itself. They are fit to grace the tables of royalty.

Japanese Iris, Purple and Gold

Landscape With Perennials

ONE has only to read the most popular home magazines and look at the accompanying pictures to appreciate what a wonderful hold the home beautification and landscape idea has upon the hearts and lives of many people. It has increased with broadening strides during the past few years.

A beautiful landscape sells thousands of those who pass on the desire for plantings of their own.

The stately effects of front lawn and foundation plantings is truly beautiful. But for real quiet satisfying attractiveness there is no arrangement of growing things that will surpass the delicate colorings of the perennial garden. Can't you just feel yourself in the surroundings of the picture above? Restful relaxation is written all over it. The soothing blues of Iris and Delphiniums, the sparkling whiteness of Japanese Lilies, the easy manner of a climbing vine, the restful yellow and white of Shasta Daisies—they all smile a pleasant greeting to come away from the cares of the day and forget. They issue a friendly invitation to bask in the bright sunlight and the delicate odors of beautiful flowers.

You ought to be able to go out and sell plants for a perennial garden to the tightest-fisted dealer in stocks and bonds you know after that sharp gust of back-yard English.

Show pictures of landscape effects like those in recent magazines. Show kodak pictures of your landscape work. You will need more plants after that and we will be delighted to sell them to you.

Lupine Pollyphyllus

A FLORIST TALKS PERENNIALS

WHAT can be done with perennials and garden flowers? You can make anything that can be made with any other flowers. I can remember many pretty things made entirely of garden flowers; for instance, a large wreath, about three-fourths of it of dark purple delphinium, finished with a large cluster of Regal Lilies, another of English ivy leaves with a garland of asters. Only recently we made a neighborhood piece about six feet high of gladioli on an easel. For appearance it would have been hard to equal with greenhouse grown flowers. Right today and every day, we are putting up beautiful and artistic sprays, bouquets, panels and wreaths that I am sure would please the most critical; and we do not use a single rose or carnation.

— A FLORIST

LUPINUS (Lupines)

The hardy Lupines meet with a long felt need for a beautiful cut flower which are sweet pea shaped on good strong stems from 2 to 3 ft. long. They prefer good moist soil.

A Picture Cannot Do Justice to These Showy Oriental Poppies

PAPAVER (Poppy)

	doz.	100	1000
The best time to plant Oriental Poppies is during their dormant season in August. We believe the Oriental Poppies to be the most beautiful of anything we have ever seen. When you see a mass planted of this hardy variety in full ing on them. On account of scarcity of stock bloom you cannot pass them without comment- we will list two varieties only this year.
Orientale Oriental poppy. Large scarlet cup-shaped blooms with purplish black blotches in center. It has a color which no other plant can supply.	1.25	8.00	60.00
Orientale, Beauty of Livermore Crimson, with black blotch; fine flowers	3.00	20.00

WHEN TO CUT PERENNIALS

IT pays every evening to go out and cut a lot of hardy garden flowers and put them in fresh, cold water; a cave or cool cellar is almost all they need, and if you do not use them one day, throw out those that do not look well and get more. If you do this, you will always have the stock ready to use and in the right condition to use. Your customers will not be kicking because they get a lot of wilted flowers, and gradually will get to like and use more and more of them. And you will pile up more and more dollars for your Uncle Sam to collect income tax from. But, incidentally, you get away from that awful thought, "where are the flowers coming from to fill that order?"

About Forcing Perennials

IT is as easy to force perennial plants as others. But there are some who have experienced difficulties with them. We have had many opportunities to gain a knowledge of them that has helped us to cultivate them to advantage. If the difficulty you are having has come within our experience we will gladly tell you how to overcome it. Write us fully describing your trouble.

For your convenience, we have mentioned the varieties in each family in the list best adapted to forcing.

Rock Garden Plants

MORE and more the Rock Garden is being used to beautify the home grounds. Its adaptations vary from a shady sylvan nook to an unshaded back garden. Its popularity has grown continually until now a Rock Garden is considered almost a necessity in the surroundings of the best homes.

New uses are being found for the dwarf plants, the trailers and ground covers. The taller varieties, too, have been fitted into the picture to a nicety to form a banked mass with lower edgings in front. Those plants that will do well in dense shade have been searched out and are now in great demand.

The sale of these plants is a wonderful side-line for any florist or seed store.

PERENNIALS SAVE GARDENER'S TIME

THE old-fashioned garden of annuals is all very well for those who have time to devote to it, but most people are busy. Perennials is the answer to the modern planting problem. It is up to us as growers and you as dealers to sell them where they need selling and carry a stock to supply the demand.
